I've been a little more active on the "social media" scene these past couple of months, and this had led to a few old friends contacting us and asking the question "Just where exactly are you living now?"

We live such busy lives, it's amazing what slips past us. Some people didn't even realize that we were no longer living in Prince Rupert. Others had some concept that we were living "down south somewhere", but really didn't know where. Still others had heard that we were living in Port Neville, but had no real idea where that was, or how remote we were from "conveniences".

The map above shows an overview of the general area where we live. Up at the top left hand corner of the map, where the red line starts, is Port Neville Inlet. The red line indicates the route
