Fortunately Brennan is pretty much a “wash and wear” puppy, no dry cleaning or pressing required. However, he can also be a pretty dirty fellow, who loves splashing in the intertidal mud and digging under the house.

We were getting ready to visit Ken’s sister in Qualicum Beach. Not wanting to expose her to Brennan at his worst, we decided it was time for Brennan’s first soap and water bath (up ’til now, we were just rinsing him off with the hose on occasion).

After ...

Not to shabby, hey??
